

FACIAL LESIONS

Many patients visiting the Nashville ENT and Allergy Clinic have a growth or lesion on their face or neck that they wish to have examined or possibly treated. We are happy to provide this service for you but be sure to point out this area at the time of your visit.

Your physician may recommend biopsy, removal or even a procedure to remove the lesion and move a small skin flap to reconstruct the defect. This will be discussed during your appointment.